

Deer Returning from Herding

4/14/13

[print_link]

The snow has finally melted and the deer are now separating from the winter herd. After a long snowy winter where the deer herded into groups of 10 to 100, the herds have broken up and the deer are returning to their old haunts. In this case the deer is visiting last years food plots from 2012.